Observations...

By the Editor

When the Supreme Court of Mississippi decided the slot machine cases, and when the recall election ended in a victory of four votes for Mayor Carver, it appeared to us that peace would eventually settle in our fair little city. Apparently some folks are not looking for peace... chaos is their mainstay... the slot machines as we well know brought about much of the discord in our midst... it brought to Mayor Carver the disagreeable 'ordeal' he had to face... The Supreme Court has decided this issue yet some folks it seems are not convinced that this decision was right, and that the slot machine racket is a dead issue in Hancock County... we understand a motion has been filed in the Supreme Court for time to file a suggestion of error in these cases... a delaying action... someone is playing for time, hoping against hope that in the final there may be a relenting in the fight against this nefarious scheme of accumulating a wealth of blood money... well, just a bit of advice, if he waits or left, this won't happen... the slot machine racket is going... so why don't you boys, attached to them, who have many capabilities, and who could do much for your community, realize this and quit trying to salvage a lost cause, and join hands in the fight to build a bigger and better Hancock County... as long as you continue your fight there is no opportunity for a perfect cooperation... and now we want to express in a few words our reaction to the filing of the petition for a recount of the votes in the recall election... we have opposed Mayor Carver's ideas on many occasions editorially and we shall continue to do so if the occasion arises again... we have always been grateful for the democratic form of government existing in this country... the majority ruled... four votes more favored retaining Mayor Carver in office, than favored ousting him... he had a majority... the recall election we think should be history... and those who urge the continuation of the fight between the Mayor and the Commissioners are making a mistake as we see it... of course they are entitled to their opinion the same as we are to ours... remember no good will ever emanate from continued discord... and remember too, public opinion changes its course many times... perhaps there may have been a mistake made, if so, then what would anyone be foolish enough to think that this matter would not remain in court for the next two years... so what have we to gain... nothing... except more discord and no cooperation... forget it boys... leave some of the personal feelings out of the picture and you will soon realize how much good you can do... remember that the ball carrier is not the only man on the team, and remember too, that it should not make any difference who carries the ball if the team is successful.

Merchants Bank Files Leo W. Seal Sponsors Tree Program

Petition Against Council

A petition was filed by the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, February 8th, 1950, in the Circuit Court of Hancock County against W. J. Carver, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, Sylvan Ladner and J. Cyril Glover, Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, for a writ of mandamus directing the defendants, the Mayor and Commissioners, to amend, revise, and correct the minutes of the Council of the City of Bay St. Louis to show that a certain resolution which was duly certified by the then clerk of the Commission Council, the Bank as having been adopted by the former Council, had been duly and legally adopted.

SUIT EMANATES FROM LOAN

The suit emanates from a loan made by the Merchants Bank and Trust Company to the City of Bay St. Louis, during the term of office of the former mayor and commissioners. The loan was in the sum of $7500.00, and the note was signed by the Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, G. Y. Blaise, W. L. Bourgeois and M. Grady Perkins. Attached to the note was the certificate of Mr. Perkins, as City Clerk, that the resolution was a true and correct copy of the minutes of the commission council, and the petition sets forth that the resolution of some unknown reason was never actually recorded in the minutes of the commission council.

THE PETITION

The petition further relates that when the resolution referred to, together with the note, was presented to the Bank there was immediately made a loan to the City, and the amount of $7500.00 was deposited to the account of the City of Bay St. Louis, as shown by the copy of the deposit slip, which is made an exhibit to the petition. The petition further states that the City of Bay St. Louis, after receiving the money from the bank, actually used and disbursed the same for proper municipal functions and purposes.

The note in question was dated October 23rd, 1948, and was due and payable February 15, 1949. REQUESTS CORRECTION The Merchants Bank and Trust Company has requested the present commission council to amend and correct the minutes of the former council to show that the resolution in question was actually adopted; the commissioners have refused to do so. The Bank, as petitioner states, that it is without an adequate remedy at law, without the issuance of a writ of mandamus, compelling the Mayor and Commissioners, to revise, amend and correct their minutes to show the true situation surrounding the loan.

CALLS UPON FORMER OFFICIALS It is further recited that the Bank has called upon the former Mayor and Commissioners, G. Y. Blaise, W. L. Bourgeois and M. Grady Perkins, who adopted the resolution and who signed the note, to determine the true facts, and each have executed an affidavit that a resolution was presented and adopted by the commission council in the month of October 1948, requesting and author-

UNITED STATES LEAGUE HONORS J. MAUFFRAY

Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray, president of the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association, was appointed to the National Fidelity Bonds and Insurance committee at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the United States League held in Chicago recently.

Mr. Mauffray was the only member selected from Mississippi; he was appointed to the committee whose work is vital in the operation of the United States League and in shaping league policy, by Henry A. Bubb, president. The committee takes part in developing materials helpful in day-to-day operations of member institutions.

The newly appointed committee-man has been connected with the Peoples Savings off and on for almost forty years, and has been steadily active in the business since 1941, at the death of Mr. Geo. R. Rea, former president.

Receiving a loan from the Merchants Bank and Trust Company in the sum of $7500.00. The former Mayor and Commissioners further stated in the affidavit that they signed the note, and that the $7500.00 was received by the City and expended by it for its proper municipal obligations. The summons in this cause is returnable at the term of the Circuit Court of Hancock County, to be held on the Second Monday of March.

MARDI GRAS DAY PROCLAMATION

Since Mardi Gras Day is a time honored institution and observed particularly in this section of our land, and

Since our people are entitled to recreation and recess for at least one day from their worldly cares, and

Whereas it is deemed fitting at this time that we do observe Mardi Gras and take advantage of the day and its pleasure to recess, and

Since it is not only fitting and proper, but in consideration of the custom,

BE IT, THEREFORE, PROCLAIMED that I, WARREN CARVER, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, do officially proclaim that TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21st, 1950, be a holiday in Bay Saint Louis and that it be enjoyed fully in the sense intended.

GRANT PETITION FOR RECOUNT OF RECALL ELECTION VOTES; SET FEBRUARY 23 AS DAY

PLANT 5000 SEEDLINGS AT A DEMONSTRATION

Five Thousand seedling pine trees were planted on 5 acres of land in the Northwest quarter of Section 8 Township 6 South, Range 14 West, which is located north of Kiln, on the Poplarville highway, in Hancock County, Tuesday morning, in a tree planting demonstration sponsored by Leo W. Seal, President of the Hancock Bank of Bay St. Louis.

SIMMONS DIRECTS DEMONSTRATION

The demonstration was under the direction of Howard Simmons County agent of Hancock County, and the planting was done by tree planters owned by the Illinois Central Railroad and the Forestry Equipment Company of Pritchard, Ala.

Prior to the actual planting, Mr. Simmons, expressed a word of welcome to more than 100 people who, in the face of inclement weather, had come to witness the demonstration. In his remarks, he cited the need of tree planting in the development of forestry.

ENCOURAGES FORESTRY

Leo W. Seal, President of the Hancock Bank, and sponsor of the demonstration, was introduced by Mr. Simmons. "Forestry is close to my heart," said Mr. Seal. "I have encouraged conservation and reforestation from the time I was a young man in the employ of the H. Weston Lumber Company. I can well remember the first forest fire we tried to control. The men said they felt like fools, trying to put out a forest fire."

He suggested that once forestry was on its way that particular attention should be given to the building of improved pastures by those interested in dairying and cattle raising in Hancock County. Continuing his remarks Mr. Seal said, "It is a challenge to the young and the old, to get behind your forestry and agricultural agents, and then watch the development which will follow."

OTHER SPEAKERS

Remarks were made by M. B. Parsons, District Ranger of the Mississippi Forest Service, T. V. Marlar, Area Ranger, J. Roland Weston, of the firm of H. Weston Lumber Company, who was the first native Mississippian to graduate in Forestry; Robert Jones, forester with the Sam Whitfield interest, J. L. Bishop, Soil conservationist for Hancock County and Louis Dantzler, Forester of the International Paper Company.

John G. Guthrie, forestry agent of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, gave a discourse on tree planters, and the reasons his company was so interested in forestry products he said, "and in South Mississippi it totals 70% of the total amount of business my company does." He urged the planting of pine seedlings by the farmers, and

Daniel J. Ziegler, John K. Edwards, Charles Traub, Sr., and Emile Adam, Sr., qualified electors of the City of Bay St. Louis, and signers of the petitions for the recall of Mayor Warren J. Carver, have filed, with George Stevenson, Octave Delph and Louis Banderet, Election Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis a petition requesting that a recount of the ballots cast in the recall election be granted.

DOUBT CORRECT VOTE

This request is made, it is cited, due to the fact that there was only a four vote margin against the recall of Mayor Carver, and since there is some doubt as to the correct vote, there being certain spoiled ballots, and in view of the fact that certain parties were allowed to vote in said election who were not qualified voters of the City of Bay St. Louis all of which leaves doubt as to the actual results of the election.

ELECTION HELD JAN. 31

The election for the recall of Mayor Carver was held January 31, 1950, following the circulation of petitions, signed by more than 25% of the qualified electors of the City of Bay St. Louis, and which petitions were filed with the commission council on December 30th, 1949.

RESULTS CLOSE

The results of the election were close, and the final tabulation showed 489 votes against the recall of Mayor Carver and 485 votes favoring his recall. The majority of four votes sustained him in office.

The petition for a recount of the votes was granted by the City election commissioners and the recount will be held next Thursday, February 23rd, at 9:30 A. M. at the City Hall.

COME TO THE BALL

Come to the Carnival Ball tonight at the St. Joseph Academy gymnasium and find out who the 1950 rulers are. Starting time is 9 p. m. and admission is $1.00. The first four dances will be reserved for the members of the court; general dancing will follow.

said, "if the farmer in the county is well off, all business is well off." ORIGINAL PLANTER COST $900 Mr. Guthrie, cited that the original planter brought in by his company from Purdue University, cost over $900.00 and there were many phases which were not liked, and many changes have been made, consequently, today a tree planter can be bought for as little as $250.00.

The actual planting of the pine seedlings was done under the direction of Mr. Guthrie and Jack L. Hale of the Forestry equipment Company of Pritchard, Alabama, who furnished the other planter. The Fordson tractors used in the demonstration were furnished by Stewart Tractor Company of Picayune and by Joseph Cuevas of the White Cypress Community.

Opens A. and J. Food Store No. 2 Fri. Feb. 10

Tony Noto, in the rear, reading left to right, is manager of the meat department of the new A. and J. Food Store No. 2, owned by Joseph E. Loiacano. Lois LeBlanc, Tom Noto, Herbert Neilsen, Joy Monti, manager, and Mr. Loiacano had just put the finishing touches to the store before they opened, Friday, February 10 when this picture was taken. PHOTO BY SQUIRES.

It has often been said that a man is "self-made" when he rose to certain heights through his own efforts. This is certainly true of Joseph E. Loiacano, one of Bay St. Louis' outstanding young business men.

Born in Bay St. Louis on March 24, 1915, he attended Bay High school and was graduated from there in 1936. In June of the same year he married the former Miss Doris Osbourne, and together they set out in their first business venture.

He purchased a grocery store from his father Anthony Loiacano and started in his own business with a capital of $200.00 cash. He developed this enterprise and invested his money in real estate; today he is probably one of the largest real estate holders in Bay St. Louis.

Last Friday he opened his third grocery store, A. and J. Food Store No. 2 located at the corner of Main and Toule streets. Miss Joy Monti is manager of the store and Tony Noto is manager of the meat department.

About three years ago he built one of the most modern business buildings in the City of Bay St. Louis and he is still building for the future. He has displayed a real faith in the value of his community.

This young couple has worked diligently, has exercised good business management and worked side by side in the development of their investments; they have not hesitated to invest in the future of this city.

SUE SMITH IS CAPTAIN OF KREWE OF CHICAPOULA

Miss Sue Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hilton Smith, will be captain of the Court of Krewes of Chicapoula for Carnival festivities in Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, February 21.

The P. T. A. Mardi Gras parade, under the supervision of Ellis Guiljory and T. J. Brodus, will begin at 1:00 p. m. with the lineup on the Carroll avenue side of Bay High, commencing at Second street, west. Starting time will be 2:00 p. m. Details have been worked out to have the groups fall into their respective classifications with minimum loss of time, Mrs. George Horton, chairman, announced.

The parade route will be east on Carroll to North Beach boulevard, south on the boulevard to Main street, west on Main to the Court-house where ceremonies will take place, continuing on Main street to Necessaire avenue, south to Railroad avenue to Union street, east on Union street to Second street, north Second street to Bay High school gym where Miss Smith will present her court and preside over the remainder of the entertainment for the afternoon.

J. H. Doak Addresses Livestock Association

Justin H. Doak, executive secretary of the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, will speak before the Hancock County Livestock Association at 10:00 A. M., February 24 in Bay St. Louis, at the K. C. Hall. The title of his address will be "Where Do We Go From Here?"

COMES FROM MISSOURI

Doak comes to Mississippi from Missouri with a wealth of experience and training in livestock production. He is a graduate of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

REARED ON LIVESTOCK FARM

Doak was reared on a livestock farm in northwest Missouri, where cattle feeding was an important enterprise and while in High School fed out many prize winning calves at such shows as the Missouri State Fair and the American Royal Livestock Show.

Livestock judging has always been one of Doak's hobbies, and his services during livestock show seasons in Missouri were always in demand.

BALANCED AGRICULTURE

According to Doak, the activities of the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association are designed to help build a better balanced agriculture for Mississippi, by helping spread the gospel of cattle and improved pastures as a cure for the head-aches involved by growing too much cotton, and the bad land use being practiced in many areas of the state. Mississippi needs new wealth badly and it is Doak's belief that cattle and improved pastures to supplement our cotton acreage offer one of the best means of increasing agricultural income, and at the same time using our land more wisely.

WHAT HANCOCK COUNTY NEEDS

We were one of many interested spectators at a tree planting demonstration, held Tuesday, North of Kiln, on the Poplarville Highway. The expression we heard from men trained and experienced in forestry work and from the agricultural agents of our county, and the demonstration we saw, brought very forcibly to us the benefits a well developed forestry program would bring to this county.

It is a challenge to the people of a County, as brought out by our County Agent, Howard Simmons, when we check the records and find that Hancock County, has an area of over 300,000 acres of land; 62,000 acres are classed as farm land, with over 400 listed farmers, and only 9,000 acres in cultivation. Some 250,000 acres of idle lands, fit for pasturage and timber-growing only.

Here lies an opportunity for development, which may afford one of the greatest payoffs in the coming years to the farmer, landowner and to the working people of Hancock County. Idle lands, are a burden bringing no revenue to the owner or the county. These lands can and should be made productive.

What is necessary to bring this about? TREE PLANTING. How can this be done? The Mississippi Forestry Service is making it possible for you to get seedling pines from its nursery for planting on these idle acres, and the Board of Supervisors of your County, with forethought, purchased a tree planting machine some two years ago. This machine which is large and must be powered with a heavy tractor, is not particularly adapted for the planting of small acreage, however, the Hancock Bank has offered to County Agent, Simmons, a smaller type machine, which was demonstrated at White Cypress, for the use of the Club Boys of Hancock County and those interested in planting smaller tracts, which can be done with a farm tractor.

Many individuals have already taken advantage of the opportunity afforded them to replant their lands in pine seedlings, and since the purchase of the tree planting machine by the Board of Supervisors 559 acres have been replanted.

Tree planting, of course is what we think is needed, but this alone will not bring about the ultimate results. There is another must, FORESTRY PROTECTION. If trees are planted and forgotten and these seedlings are not protected from the ravages of forest fires, it would be useless to start a tree planting program. It is going to take continued education of our people particularly our youth, in conservation making them fully realize the monetary value or the young timber. Those who are prone to burn the woods, give little thought to the value of the products they are destroying. Certainly they would not set fire to your barn. They know this is wrong. There is an intrinsic value to property of this type. They have not been taught the value of the pine seedling. This is a part of the work ahead of us if we are to succeed.

The pine seedling, too, has an intrinsic value. 1000 seedlings are planted to the acre of land. Suppose in ten years these trees are worth 10 cents apiece. An acre of young pines would be worth $100.00. Think, before you drop the match, that perhaps your action will destroy thousands upon thousands of dollars of value in these trees, and think too of the dollars you are destroying in the future earning capacity of your fellow citizens.

Yes, sir, we need a real forestry program, and too, we need a program which will bring before our people the future value of a pine tree. This is one method of aiding in the building of a bigger and better Hancock County.

Pierre, Great Hunter, Found Something He Could Not Kill

By BILLY ROSE

From the province of Manitoba in Canada comes the strange tale of Pierre Montevlain, the hunter. Your acceptance or rejection of it will depend on the kind of pixies under your hat, of a caribou, lived in almost medieval splendor in a chateau overlooking Lake Winnipeg. Only two things interested him—hunting and drinking, and the measure of the man was that he was more concerned with the potency than the taste of his liquor, and cared little what it was he shot as long as he made the kill.

When he was forty, he married Emile d'Arboise, a girl of good family from the Winnipegosis district, and when she presented him with a son a year later he tossed his hair in Hudson Bay rum and predicted that he, too, would some day be a great hunter.

His wife, however, hated the continual killing, and as the child grew older she was happy that he showed no inclination for the hunt. To encourage his love of wild life, she gave him a silver medallion of St. Francis of Assisi, patron saint of birds and beasts, and hung it around his neck on a thin gold chain. "I've heard it said that when people die their souls enter other living things, sometimes an animal," she told him.

A FEW MONTHS before the boy's ninth birthday, his father found a new-born fawn in the forest and presented it to his son. The lad named it Francois, bottle-fed it until the shakiness went out of its legs, and trained it until it followed him around like a puppy.

On his birthday a few weeks later, Pierre gave his new mother present, a specially constructed rifle, small enough for a boy to carry but in all other respects an efficient instrument of destruction.

"Tomorrow," he said, "we will go hunting."

The youngster said nothing, but later asked his mother what he should do.

"You must go with your father," said Emile.

"You told me that when people die their souls go into animals," said the boy. "Wouldn't it be like killing a person?"

"Your father thinks differently," said Emile.

"I won't shoot to hit anything," said the lad.

Pierre, who had been drinking on the porch, overheard the conversation. Addressing himself to his son, he said, "There will be no more women's talk. You will become a man and a hunter like your father. Tomorrow we go to the woods, but your first lesson will be tonight."

Great Books Meet

St. Augustine's Confessions Books I to VIII will be discussed at the next meeting of the Great Books group to be held at the Episcopal Parish House, February 17 at 8:00 P. M.

Visiting Rotarians

Visiting Rotarians Wednesday were Floyd Brainard, president, Pass Christian club; Oscar Odell from Moline, Illinois; C. W. Moore, Biloxi; Fred Moore, Pass Christian; William Kale, Pass Christian. Other visitors for luncheon were Mrs. E. C. Samuel, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Weston, Mrs. J. R. Scharff, and Miss May H. Edwards.

A total of 274,000 commercial broilers were produced in Monroe County last year, with a net profit of $34,250 to the growers.

Take your rifle and shoot the fawn."

Terrified, the boy nodded and went to the barn. He prodded the fawn with a stick and tried to frighten it into the forest, but the pet, thinking it was a new game, took a few playful leaps and then frisked back for more sport. Finally, the boy placed the medallion of St. Francis around the fawn's neck. It needed divine protection more than he.

HALF AN HOUR later, Pierre back on the porch, was roused from his rum by a shot and walked out to the barn, certain that the boy, like a true Montevlain, had obeyed his order. Instead, on the earth floor he found his son's body, blood oozing through the shirt, while the fawn, the medallion dangling from its neck, stood near by.

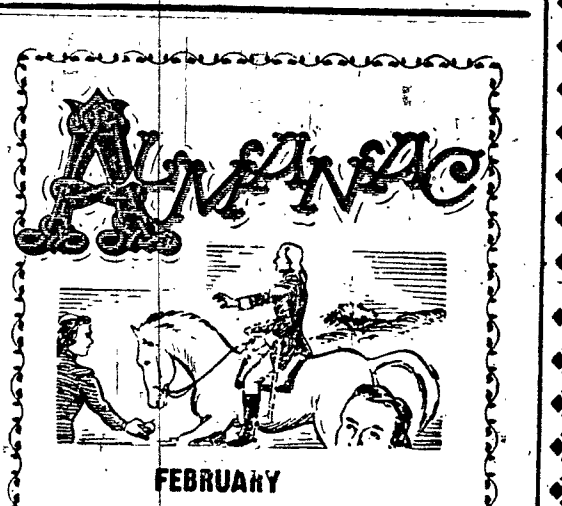

Crazed, Pierre picked up the rifle and pumped the remaining bullets into the animal's heart. Then he tore the talisman from the carcass.

Next day the boy was buried with the medallion of St. Francis again around his neck, and after the funeral Emile went back to her own village.

From then on, the great hunter became the great butcher. Day after day, he killed as if bent on exterminating every animal in the forest and at night he drank and cursed his wife for her ideas about souls and animals.

One evening the following summer he saw a giant stag at the far end of the garden. He reached for his gun and followed it down to the lake. At the water's edge the animal paused and Pierre lifted the gun to his shoulder, but instead of a giant stag he saw a frightened fawn. Its eyes reminded him of two other sets of eyes, but he fired, and the animal gave a little jump and fell dead. Attracted by something on its neck, he walked over to see what it was.

The villagers were not surprised a few days later when they learned that Pierre Montevlain had died of a stroke. But there was much talk about the object found in the dead man's hand—a silver medallion of St. Francis of Assisi suspended on a thin gold chain.

The tea table, with a Venetian Point lace cloth was centered with an arrangement of Coral Bell azalea blooms, daffodils and bridal wreath; standing tall in the containers were calla lilies and blue Dutch iris. The arrangement was made by Mrs. L. T. Boyd. At the four corners of the table were pink perfection camellias, and at either end of the table was a silver coffee and tea service and three branched silver candelabra holding white candles.

Mesdames L. T. Boyd, C. C. Weston, Eugene Mogabgab, J. R. Rollins, John Bell, Oliver Radford, Elizabeth Weston and Miss Ruth Cazeneuve alternated pouring tea and coffee.

COMMITTEES

The committees responsible for the success of the affair were comprised of Mrs. John Bell, all-over chairman; Mrs. Ben Hille, co-chairman; Mesdames Leo W. Seal, T. T. Robin, Sam Whitfield and A. P. Smith, refreshments; Mesdames L. T. Boyd, W. L. Reeder, E. M. Heath, Sr., H. A. Oxenham, decorations; Mrs. C. C. Newton, tea table; Mrs. Ben Hille, prizes; Mesdames J. R. Rollins, Eugene Mogabgab, E. P. Kirkpatrick, H. A. Thompson, W. L. Reeder, hospitality committee; Mesdames N. C. Erwin, Gerald Kennedy, Sr., Tom Schaefer, card table committee.

PRIZE WINNERS

Winners of the door prizes were Mrs. Lydell Caffery, potted azalea donated by Mrs. Ben Hille; Mrs. S. B. F. Jones, potted white azalea donated by Mrs. O. J. Litoff; Mrs. Mathilde Johnson, azalea donated by Lone Pine Nursery; Mrs. Irma Shepard, a pot plant donated by Mrs. W. L. Reeder; Miss Ruth Cazeneuve, potted ivy plant donated by Mrs. L. T. Boyd; F. J. Rose, azalea donated by Mrs. J. R. Rollins; Miss Merle Radford, azalea donated by Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab; Mrs. Dan Russell, azalea donated by O. J. Litoff.

MRS. ARTIGUES RETURNS

Mrs. M. J. Artigues will be brought to her home here on Saturday from the Baptist Hospital in New Orleans where she underwent a major operation some weeks ago. Her friends are glad to know that she has sufficiently recovered to be moved to her home.

MISSISSIPPI'S NEW CAPITOL IS BIG TOURIST ATTRACTION

Mississippi's historic New Capitol Building is downtown Jackson, completed in 1903 at a cost of a little over $1,000,000 and recently re-decorated and cleaned, is proving to be one of the state's foremost tourist attractions.

During the 18 months period ending January 1, 1950, a total of nearly 20,000 visitors from 48 states and 31 foreign countries have registered with Mrs. W. G. Eckles, capitol receptionist whose job it is to acquire visitors around and give them the history of the state's foremost public building.

A total of 14,223 visitors, about 60 per cent of them Mississippians, registered at the Capitol in 1949. Missouri has provided the greatest number of tourists from outside the state with 1950, Texas is second with 1118, Louisiana third with 746, and Illinois fourth with 632 registering. Fewest number of visitors, only one, registered from New Hampshire.

Mrs. Eckles, who was appointed to her present position as receptionist in August, 1949, says the area west of the Mississippi River provides the Capitol's heaviest crop of tourists. Her oldest visitor was 92, her youngest 7 weeks of age.

The New Capitol, although less than 50 years old, is already accumulating traditions and legends which add to its interesting qualities. One existing tradition is that the many niches for statuary remain empty because the Capitol is a state house and was meant to honor no single man.

It is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful buildings in the state, and among the most magnificent and impressive state capitols in the nation.

The old penitentiary grounds were selected as a site for the structure and the architectural plan of Theodore L. Link of St. Louis was adopted. The design follows the renaissance architectural lines.

Stone for the outside walls was bought, cut and shaped in the famous Hoosier quarries of Bedford, Indiana, and a special railroad track was laid to carry this stone and other materials to the site, a 750 foot square in the heart of the Capitol City.

To provide a lasting foundation for the four-story building, which is 220 feet from east to west and 225 wide through the center pavilion, contractors removed a strata of Jackson marl clay, replacing it with sand from Pearl River. Into this the corner stone was set.

Fourteen months were required to finish the job, but when the New Capitol was turned over to the state it was considered one of the most magnificent buildings in the nation.

The main entrance is of Vermont Blue marble on a base of black Belgian Marble. The spacious rotunda, surmounted by a dome 180 feet above the main entrance level, is of Italian marble with trimmings of jet black and friezes and columns of scagliola.

The dome, originally of white stucco, has been redecorated twice and is now a beautiful kaleidoscope of pastel shades and murals trimmed with gold leaf.

Inside the central rotunda opens upward to the ceiling of the dome. Around the rotunda are built the wings which comprise the second, third and fourth floors.

The two legislative chambers are at the opposite ends of the third floor and are built up of marble and scagliola with ceilings of oxidized lead. The chambers are now a beautiful kaleidoscope of French Renaissance.

There are nineteen types of lights, replacing broken masonry cleaning and sand blasting the exterior and painting the interior.

Both house and senate chambers have been completely reconditioned, new furniture has been installed and in the house a new loud speaker system and voting machine have been installed.

Another innovation which has attracted widespread attention from outsiders as well as Mississippi visitors to the Capitol has been the installation of dome lights and addition of a white way encircling the magnificent grounds which surround the structure.

The new Capitol stands today beautiful in appearance, strong in purpose, and symbol of the state's progress.

Work was begun on the Teen-Age club float entry for the Mardi Gras parade; it will be entitled "Song of the Islands."

Under Mrs. Noble's direction, the Teen-Agers are finding something new and different in store every week with planned programs that are always a surprise to those present.

Come on out Saturday, get in costume, join in the fun and have a gay time at the Teen-Age Club's first Mardi Gras ball.

Mississippi's New Capitol building in downtown Jackson, built in 1903 at a cost of $1,000,000, is attracting more visitors today than ever before. It is located on the site of the old penitentiary which was built in 1840 and which was used as an armaments factory during the war, until Sherman's occupation of Jackson. It is said that part of the penitentiary's walls were too difficult to demolish and are buried under the man-made hill from which the Capitol now rises.

four kinds of wood are used—maple, oak, walnut and mahogany. The center dome is topped with a pure gold leaf, a job which was recently completed during re-decoration. The eagle atop the dome is eight feet high and has a wing spread of 15 feet. It cost $1500 when erected.

During the past year a crew of workmen have swarmed over the building, repairing dome sky-standing why Mississippians refer to this as the New Capitol, not realizing that the state has two such buildings.

Actually Jackson has been the site of three Capitol buildings. The first statehouse was built in 1822 on the northeast corner of President and Capitol Streets in Jackson, now occupied by a commercial building. The second Capitol, which still stands today and is known as the Old Capitol, was erected at the head of Jackson's main street in 1842 at a cost of $400,000.

Mississippi actually has had a number of Capitols; the first being at Washington, north of Jackson, the second at Columbia in Marion county, and the third at Jackson

Teen - Age News

By: Mrs. C. J. Van Trier,
Secretary of the Executive Board

More than two hundred young people and twenty-five adults attended the Backward Dance at the Teen-Age club Saturday night, February 11.

The boys borrowed silks and laces from Mom and Sis, and the girls ransacked Dad's closet for pants, shirts, ties and sweaters. Things were definitely reversed when the girls called for their dates to escort them to the dance and cut in on the dance floor.

Mrs. Benny Nobles, directress of the club, has planned a masquerade Carnival ball for Saturday, February 18, in keeping with the gay Mardi Gras spirit that now prevails. There will be a floor show, and if Mrs. Nobles' plans work out satisfactorily, there will be music by an orchestra. The admission for guests will be 50c. Each member is allowed guests at all parties and dances.

Work was begun on the Teen-Age club float entry for the Mardi Gras parade; it will be entitled "Song of the Islands."

From the PMA County Committee

The local PMA County Committee has recently received an announcement extending the 1949 tung price support program. Producers of tung nuts will not be accepted after this date. March 31, 1950 is the last date the producer has to deliver his tung nuts to Community Credit Corporation. September 1, 1950 is the earliest date the producer may offer to deliver tung oil and September 30, 1950 is the last date he may deliver the oil to Community Credit Corporation.

The tung purchase agreement program is a government sponsored program whereby a floor is placed under the price of tung nuts and oil below which the government will not allow the price of nuts or oil to go.

At the present time with no imports of tung oil from China the price is high. If, however, Chinese tung oil were to flood the American market, the price of oil would doubt go below the government support price.

The producer does not obligate himself that he will deliver any tung nuts and/or oil when he signs a purchase agreement. He is notified that he may. He may deliver any amount up to the amount shown on the purchase order. After he signs a purchase agreement, the producer may sell his tung nuts and/or oil at any time up until he notifies the Community Credit Corporation that

"Women of Scripture" Study Course Ends

A study course on "Women of the Scripture" closed Wednesday evening at the Main Street Methodist church with a representative attendance.

Miss Florence Dixon was the instructor of the course which was based on the book by Arthur Bruce Moss. It was outlined so as to touch all outstanding women of that period of time.

The course was condensed to four lessons, two of which were held on Wednesday evenings at the Prayer meeting hour.

The course embraced the following topics: "The Woman Who Had a Little Son"; "The Woman Who Had a Little Room"; "Career and Business Women"; "The Women who Crossed Road Borders."

The course closed with a tribute to the women of today and their contribution to their homes, their community and their church.

STATEMENTS FROM "BOBWITES ON THE RISE."

By VERNE E. DAVISON

The dedication of the book is "To those who hunt the bobwhite quail and to the landowners, who alone can grow more of them."

"Bicolor lespedeza is astonishingly successful on lands where everyone once believed the food supply was abundant, and also on 'poor' lands where quail abundance seemed impossible. The discovery and development of bicolor permitted simplification of management. Bicolor makes excellent use of wildlife land; it provides food abundance when planted in correct land-use patterns."

"Field borders along woodlands, streams, and gullies are excellent places to locate food for bobwhites. Cover is already provided in the shrubs and grass of the adjoining land. Field borders are snapped by trees at the edge of the field; crops are not profitable in an area of 30 feet or more from the trees; and erosion is a severe problem. This land has no use except for wildlife food and cover. To withstand the competition of living tree roots, a perennial plant having a similar root-system is more dependable than an annual which must grow anew from seeds each year. Bicolor, and in some places sericea lespedeza, have proven more useful for borders."

"Bicolor lespedeza was developed by the Soil Conservation Service specially for bobwhites. It has earned a place in the management of land in many states. Bicolor supports quail better than either nature or man has been able to do before; and bicolor can be grown permanently in certain patterns of soil conservation farming."

"With soil conservation you can support quail better than nature or man has been able to do before."

"Dedicated to perennial vegetation of the right sort, field borders cease to be a problem in erosion. A strip of bicolor lespedeza here offers the food we need for our bobwhites at that particular part of the farm. You can't feed your birds on 'half a loaf,' so don't make the mistake of planting a row or two of bicolor. That isn't enough. Make your food strip 12 to 15 feet wide—not more than 20 feet. Add an equal width of sericea where you need a turn-row between cropland and bicolor."

"We cannot depend on nature to provide abundance of bobwhites. Protection of native vegetation is not enough. Mother Nature seldom selects her plants to feed and shelter bobwhites. Man can grow and feed bobwhites better than nature. Management is the selection of suitable foods and cover, and their establishment and care in a sound land-use economy."

Alfred E. Smith, Sellers School Community; C. Donald Wahl, Deleaux School Community; Joseph L. Ladner, Necaise Community; James L. Crump and Fred C. Taylor of Texas Flat road planted field borders of lespedeza-bicolor last week.

Legion News

By The Commander

I'll have to admit that I am just a little disappointed in our membership drive that has just ended, though some of you really went to the bat and did a fine job bringing in the members.

We now have about 160 Legionnaires; this is about 40 less than last year's total membership. Still we have more than 60 members who have failed to renew their dues this year. Let's not put this off any longer; send in your dues right away.

We have about 800 or 900 more ex-service men throughout the county that should be in the Legion. The next issue of the Echo will carry a complete list of the 1949 membership to date. Look it over, and if your name is not on it, won't you see that it appears in the one in March following the close of the Birthday Drive.

Don't fail to get your name in now during the Birthday Membership drive, and bring in a new member. During this drive a Legion Emblem will be given to all members who will secure, and bring in to the post, five members, either renewals or new ones.

Demonstration Club Gets In National Spotlight

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Home Demonstration work and its club women will be in the national spotlight during National Home Demonstration Week, April 30 to May 6, and during the National Home Demonstration Council meeting in Elkhart, October 16-20.

Each year for the past five years a special week has been set aside to tell people what home demonstration work is and what it does. The theme for the week's activities this year will be a continuation of last year's slogan, "Today's Homes Build Tomorrow's World."

One purpose of this week is to acquaint the general public with the values, activities and accomplishments of home demonstration work, and its place and importance in the extension program.

UNION OBJECTIVES

Other objectives are to encourage families, particularly young married people, to take an active part in the extension program, and to recognize volunteer leaders whose services have contributed to better home and community life.

Features of the week are special meetings, news articles, radio broadcasts and exhibits. Last year during the week, 26 new home demonstration clubs with 807 new members were organized in Mississippi.

Remember the letter of the crisp snow on the first county enrollment every farm woman in a home demonstration club made by Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, president of Mississippi State College, and Mrs. Mitchell wouldn't this be a wonderful goal for us to reach during National Home Demonstration Week?

BETTER HOMES WEEK

Better Homes Week is an annual Mississippi event of home demonstration club members that will be held in connection with National Home Demonstration Week. This is a week too which focuses the state's attention on the year's work of home demonstration club members in improving their homes and the grounds of homes, churches and schools.

Every week is really a better homes week among club women, but during this one they summarize and evaluate their accomplishments and plan to do better during the coming year.

It isn't a bit too early for each club and the county council to make plans for celebrating this special week. They have in it an opportunity to make known the year's record of home demonstration and better homes' accomplishments toward obtaining better homes and a better world.

Plans are taking shape for the 1950 annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council to be held on the Mississippi Gulf Coast October 16-20.

The executive board of the state council discussed plans for providing registration, entertainment, decorations, and souvenirs at a recent meeting in Jackson. It adopted the idea of displaying welcoming placards along all main highways at each farm where a home demonstration member lives, and of making an effort to show the visitors especially beautiful fall gardens.

Mrs. Malcolm Byrnes, national council president, of Ethel, Louisiana, and Miss Ellen NeNor, Louisiana state home demonstration agent, met with the executive board to assist with the planning. More detailed plans for the annual council meeting will be announced, Mrs. Byrnes said, after a meeting of the executive board of the national council.

This national council represents the largest organization of rural women. Over 2,500 delegates from 32 states, as well as Hawaii, attended the 1949 national meeting last October at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Natural gas simplifies and speeds all the big jobs in the home, doing them more efficiently and at far less cost than any other fuel.

Natural Gas Service Is Economical

The few pennies you spend each day for natural gas bring you the world's biggest bargain in convenience and dependable service. While prices in general have jumped fifty, a hundred, and even two or three hundred per cent, natural gas service in the Gulf South now costs only a little more than it did before World War II.

Resolution Gulfview Consolidated School District for $25000.00 Bonds

The following resolution was introduced by Supervisor Joseph C. Jones and unanimously adopted.

Whereas, there has been presented to this Board a petition signed by a majority of the qualified electors residing in the Gulfview Consolidated School District of Hancock County, Mississippi all requesting the issuance of bonds for the purpose of providing funds for construction of additional school buildings, namely a cafeteria, gymnasium, remodel old cafeteria for teachers home and equipment, and

Whereas, this Board has examined said petition and rechecked amount of qualified electors in said Gulfview Consolidated School District and also checked the amount of the qualified electors signing said petition and do find that a majority of the qualified electors have signed said petition, and

Whereas, Under section 6370 of the Mississippi Code of 1942, provides that no election is necessary when a majority of the qualified electors have signed the petition, and

Whereas, said petition does not request an election, and this Board believed said bonds should be issued for the Gulfview Consolidated School District for the purpose of constructing additional school buildings, namely a cafeteria, gymnasium, remodel old cafeteria for teachers home and equipment, and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi does now find and determine that the assessed valuation of the taxable property as ascertained by the last complete assessment for taxation is $17,530.88 within said school district, shown by certified statements of the County Superintendent of Education of Hancock County, Mississippi on file with this Board, and that the total outstanding indebtedness of the Gulfview Consolidated School District both bonded and floating is $10,000.00 and that this bond issue of $25,000.00 when added to the existing indebtedness will make a total outstanding indebtedness, including both bonded and floating of the School District for school purposes of $35,000.00, which indebtedness the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, finds to be less than 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property of the school district as assessed by the last complete assessment for taxation and the Board of Supervisors finds and adjudges that the amount of this indebtedness both bonded and floating, of said school district for school purposes does not exceed eight per cent (8%) of the amount assessed valuation of the taxable property of said school district as ascertained by the last complete assessment for taxation, including any indebtedness that may have been incurred by said school district or other School District or Districts, and

of Hancock County does now find and determine that it is necessary for funds to be provided for the purposes aforesaid and that no funds are available for such purposes except by the issuance of bonds for said school district, and

Now Therefore be it resolved and ordered by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi as follows:

SECTION 1 That proceeding under the authority of the constitution and statutes of the State of Mississippi particularly section 6370 of the Mississippi Code of 1942, there shall be and there are hereby authorized, ordered and directed to issue bonds of the Gulfview Consolidated School District of Hancock County, Mississippi in the aggregate principal sum and amount of Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) to provide funds for constructing additional school buildings, namely a cafeteria, gymnasium, remodel old cafeteria for teachers' home and equipment. That said bonds shall bear interest from date thereof until paid and at a legal rate to be fixed by this Board at the time the said bonds are sold, payable July 1st, 1951 and semi-annually, thereafter on January 1st and July 1st of each year, provided however that no interest shall accrue on said bonds after the said respective maturity dates thereof, unless said bonds be presented for payment at maturity and be not then paid. Interest accruing on said bonds on and prior to the respective maturity dates thereof shall be payable on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds, as said coupons respectively become due. Both principal of and interest on said bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the County Depository, Hancock Bank, in the County of Hancock, State of Mississippi. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) each and shall mature without option of earlier payment in the amounts and at the time following, to-wit:

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Recommend Lindane For Use On Dairy Cattle

By Howard F. Simmons

LINDANE ON DAIRY CATTLE

Lindane, one of the newer spray materials, was recently recommended by the Bureau of Entomology for use on dairy cattle.

This material does not have the musty odor of the regular benzene hexachloride. It can be bought either as a 12 percent or a 25 percent wettable powder.

For lice control, lindane should be used at the rate of one-half pound of the 12 percent material, or one-fourth pound of the 25 percent material to each 20 gallons of water. At this strength, it will give complete control of all stages of lice on cattle.

Lindane can also be alternated with methoxychlor for house fly control in the dairy barn.

MILK PRODUCTION UP

The Grade "A" milk demand in December and January was satisfied from production within Mississippi. More Mississippi produced milk is going to consuming centers in surrounding states than is coming here from other states.

There must be reasons for the increase this winter. One is the exceptionally wide spread between prices for Grade "A" and for Grade "C" on processing milk.

Many producers have put in Grade "A" barns and other facilities. A conservative estimate is 3,000 such barns built in the last two years.

Another reason is fall freshened cows. The winter base for summer milk has worked wonders towards changing the season when "Bossie" freshens. Instead of following the old practice of drying her off in November, starving her until May, and having her freshen in late March and April, she is now on vacation in August and September and in full production by November.

More green fields than ever before seen in Mississippi in January is a third reason for increased dairy production. Grazing crops have grown so luxuriously that on many dairy farms the cows cannot keep it grazed down.

Winter grazing costs an average of $30.00 per acre when done right. But what difference does this cost make when the cows pay it all back the first grazing month by increasing production 30 to 60 percent? This grazing cuts stored roughage 50 to 100 percent, and concentrate feeding 30 to 40 percent.

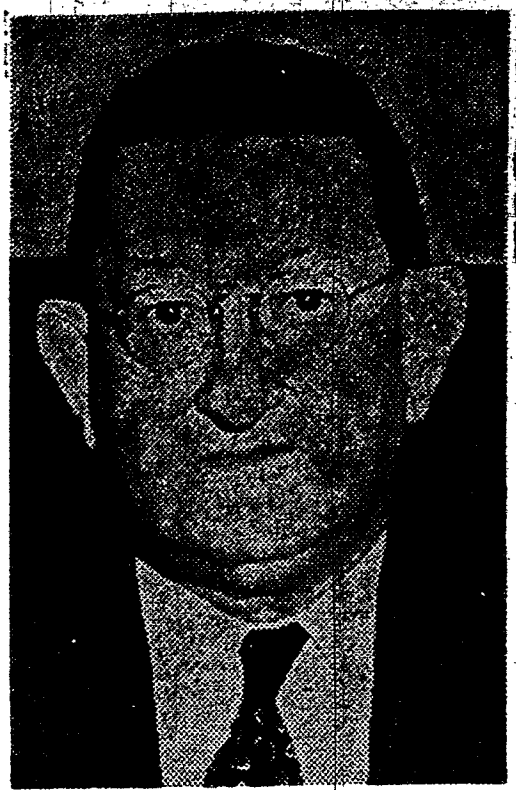

Some counties report that 90 to 100 percent of the Grade "A" dairy farms have all the good grazing their cows can handle. Also, 75 percent of the Grade "C" producers have grazing for their cows in those counties.

This is a good time to think about what grazing insurance can mean. Remember that grazing sometimes fails, gets short or is lacking entirely.

Some years this happens in August and September. One year out of every two to four, grazing will go short or out entirely in January or the first half of February. Insurance at such a time in winter is a barn full of No. 1 pea green hay and silo full of silage.

STRAWBERRIES

We are having numerous request from strawberry growers for a poison bait to kill snails and cut worms which are causing considerable damage at this time. Until the berries begin to take on some size a poison bait using either paris green or arsenic is desirable. However, after the berries begin to take on some size the above two items cannot be used as they are dangerous to the berry grower from the human standpoint. Pellets sold under the trade name "bugger" and "appo" should be used at this time. These pellets contain enough metaldehyde, a poison which is poisonous to snails and cut worms but do not contain enough poison to damage the berries.

NEWS OF OUR COLORED PEOPLE

Amelia Dautrive, 76, Dies Feb. 8

By Senior Students of St. Rose De Lima High School

Mrs. Amelia Dautrive, 76 year old, wife of the late Elike Dautrive, died Wednesday morning at 10:30, after an illness of two months. Mrs. Dautrive, who was born in New Iberia, Louisiana, lived in Bay St. Louis for the past eighteen years. She is survived by five sons, Walter, John, Peter, Lelia, and George Dautrive; two daughters, Mrs. Mary E. Williams and Mrs. Winnie Stoneham; eighteen grandchildren, twenty-four great grandchildren, one niece, Mrs. Flo Morse, and one nephew, Mr. John Jones, of New Iberia, La., and many other relatives.

Funeral services were held at St. Rose de Lima Church at 3:30 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Conrad Kinder officiated at the burial ceremony. Mrs. Dautrive was laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery.

WINS BLUE RIBBON

Rev. Christian Baker, S. V. D. of St. Augustine Seminary won a blue ribbon at a flower show in New Orleans. The prize was won for the Bush Camellia, named after the former rector.

Last week the St. Augustine basketball team played the Catholic School of Biloxi. St. Augustine's was in the lead until the very end when Biloxi won with a score of 33-31.

The St. Rose basketball teams played the Magnolia teams of Moss Point, Friday, February 10. The senior girls won, but both boys' teams lost.

The Ladies Auxiliary and the Knights of Peter Claver sponsored a Valentine party for their members on Sunday, February 12. Costumes of every description were worn and added much to the life of the party.

Miss Judith Fairconneture, Beverly Fairconneture, and Josephine Williams were entertained by Elmer Huff, Frank Lennit, Joe E. Morgan, and Lawrence Barkley, all of Gulfport, on Sunday.

Valena C. Jones School celebrated Negro History Week. Programs were given Monday by the elementary grades, on Wednesday by the Juniors, and on Friday by the Seniors.

On the eighteenth of February there will be a Saturday night Fish Fry at the Valena C. Jones School. This fry is being sponsored by the senior class.

The ladies of St. Stephen Court No. 26 were hostesses to the Supreme Lady, Mrs. A. R. Aubry and the National Secretary, Mrs. Sedonia McCarty recently. Before the meeting held at St. Philomena Hall, the two ladies were guests at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Theodore Bowser. Mmes. Aubry and McCarty gave inspiring talks after the luncheon. Congressional Sidelights

By Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

Again the country is faced with another series of major strikes by the nation's workers. The big Chrysler automobile factories are once more closed; the nation's coal miners are out on strike; a brief truce has been declared in the telephone workers proposed strike and there are other evidences of more strikes in the offing.

The John L. Lewis coal strike has become an annual affair. And along with the suffering and inconveniences of this major blow at the economy of the country goes some interesting and vital questions. Among these is the question of the sovereignty of the government against the will of an adamant and dictatorial labor leader. The question is posed as to whether a democratic government, such as ours, can protect the health, convenience and economy of a great people against the whims of an autocratic labor leader. The Taft-Hartley Bill was set up under the better opposition of President Truman and the labor unions for this purpose. President Truman has used this act as an effective weapon to rally the labor union chieftains to his political support. He has repeatedly urged Congress to repeal the act and has steadfastly refused to invoke its injunctive provisions except in the case of the coal strikes.

Now that the President has unwillingly been forced to fall back on this law, it will be interesting to watch developments. There is a strong feeling in Washington that the President is even now heartened in this effort and that he and his political advisors secretly hope that the Taft-Hartley Act will fail to force the miners to return to their jobs, even though the President has declared that there is a national emergency.

Should the injunction be sought and should John L. Lewis and his miners refuse to obey the court order, another serious angle would be presented namely, can Mr. Lewis and his miners ignore and flout the order of the Federal Court? It is obvious that this is a very serious matter. For, if the solemn decree of the court were flaunted, a condition bordering on anarchy and rebellion would ensue. In such case the President would again find himself in a most embarrassing position. He would be faced with the problem of permitting that unthinkable condition to prevail or would have to resort to strong arm methods, such as his former Attorney General, Tom Clark, argued he had, namely, "the inherent power under the constitution" to deal with such an emergency.

There is strong sentiment here, however, to the effect that the President will not permit matters to go that far; but will rather follow the formula which he has used on many previous occasions of forcing the mine operators, through governmental pressure, to yield to the coal dictator's terms.

CATAHOULA

The altar society of "Our Lady of the Pines" Catholic Church of Catahoula gave a barbecue and dance for the benefit of the building fund last Sunday, February 12, at the recreation hall across the road from Davidson's store. Music for the dance was furnished by the "Rhythmaires" from the Picayune radio station, W. R. J. W.

Mrs. W. D. Davidson is recovering from an operation for a cataract on her eye. Back at home now, Mrs. Davidson reports that she can already see out of the eye on which the operation was performed.

Ray Moran, a student at Mississippi State, came home for the week end.

Miss Ida Ruth Cuevas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lott Cuevas, was operated on for appendicitis Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, at Kings Daughters' Hospital in Bay St. Louis. She is reported doing fine.

Miss Jeannette Seals visited relatives in Lakeshire, Miss., over the week end.

Suffering from an attack of appendicitis, Jane Haas, tall forward and captain of Kiln girls' basketball team, was taken to Kings' Daughters' Hospital in Bay St. Louis, Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock and was operated on around 12 o'clock.

A senior this year, Jane has been playing basketball during her entire school career, having chalked up a total of 2650 points in the four years. However, it was not until the middle of her sophomore year that she was able to master her specialty—the overhead shot. This season she has rung up 576 points in the 25 games played.

By coincidence her sister Mable, a freshman this year and utility player on Kiln's team, also underwent an appendectomy a little over a week ago.

KILN LOSES BY ONE POINT IN SUB-REGIONAL FINALS

In the Sub-Regional tournament Kiln girls defeated S. J. A. and Bay High, only to be tripped by Pass High in the finals, Saturday night, February 11, 1950.

The Kiln girls played S. J. A. Wednesday night, February 8, in the tournament. Kiln lassies bounced S. J. A. 62-30. In the last half of the game Kiln forwards and guards changed positions but the score continued to increase with Janette Garriga dumping in 4 points; and Irma Depre, star guard, 2 points.

Kiln High Wildcats played Pass High boys in what should have been a thrilling game, but the Wildcats couldn't hit the basket and were eliminated 37-27.

Friday night, February 10, the Kiln High sextet met Bay High girls, and Kiln had no trouble in spanking Bay Hi to the tune of 71-27, even though Bay Hi made 33 "intentional" fouls.

The final girls' game of the tournament was between Kiln and Pass High, Saturday, February 11. Pass High won by one point, but it was a dull game with Pass High forwards continuing to freeze the ball, Kiln downed Pass Hi only one week before in the Bay High Invitational Tournament.

MR. NAZAIRE CUEVAS EXPIRES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Mr. Nazaire Cuevas, 74, died at his home in Rocky Hill community, about 11 o'clock, Sunday evening, February 12, 1950. Saturday he suffered a stroke, which followed an illness of about two months since the first stroke.

Born and reared in this vicinity, Mr. Cuevas was a lifelong resident of Hancock County. By trade he was a carpenter.

Funeral services were held at the St. Louis of France Catholic church at Rocky Hill, 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning, at a Requiem Mass celebrated by Father Fidelis Becker. Father Edmund Koller delivered the sermon. Mr. Cuevas's grandsons, J. C. and Larry Koenenn, Roy, Leroy and Gussy Cuevas, and Graham McCarty served as pallbearers.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Cuevas is survived by eight children; Mrs. John Koenenn, Dedaux; Mrs. Kenneth McCarty, Van Cleave; Mrs. James Fontaine, Quitman; Ursis and Vergil Cuevas, Pascagoula; Saul Cuevas, Bayou LaCroix; Aras Cuevas, Rocky Hill; and Oren Cuevas, Bay St. Louis. Also surviving are his brothers and sisters, Angel, Salvador, Saul, and T. S. Cuevas and Mrs. Myrthe Koenenn, all of Kiln.

Thursday, February 16, 1950, Kiln girls will play Industrial in the Region "8" tournament. These teams have met twice this season, and the Kiln girls won both games.

Tuesday night, February 14, 1950, the Kiln grammar school basketball boys and girls played St. John. The Kiln boys won by the score of 54-31, and St. John registered a 26-17 victory over the Kiln girls. The Kiln boys, who are undefeated this season, will return to the tournament Thursday night and play the winners between Dedeaux and Woolmarket. The line ups are as follows:

Boys: Lacoste, Lamar, Necaise, Necaise, Gussy Cuevas, Jason McCarty, Freddy Necaise, and Larry (Emmett) Ladner, went to Pass Christian Monday night to compete with the Pass boxing team.

The match ended in a tie, with the following winners for Kiln: Leonard Lacoste (50-65 lb. class), Richard Lacoste (65-70), Mike Cuevas (65-70), Larry Ladner (95-100) Marvin Lacoste (85-90) and Larry Ladner (65-70).

Visiting Mrs. R. Lacoste and family in Kiln, Sunday, February 5, were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lacoste and children, Susan Ann and Christian Rose, from New Orleans.

Flora Mae Cameron has returned from the Kings Daughters' hospital in Bay St. Louis, where she was sent following an attack which occurred at the Bay Hi Tournament Friday night, February 3.

Miss Louis Haas, who is working in New Orleans, underwent an appendectomy at Hotel Dieu, Thursday, January 25. Last Sunday she was able to come to her home in Kiln, and is now rapidly recovering.

DELTA SEES HOPE IN LOWLY SOYBEAN, FIRST MILL OPENS

The rich, cotton growing Delta, feeling the effects of a short 1949 crop, has just taken another step for freedom from King Cotton's rule, and this time it's the lowly soybean which is "muscling" in on the old sovereign's domain.

Many a small cotton farmer has been looking around for some time now for a new and more dependable crop for his rich but tricky land, and the soybean already is solving that problem for an adventurous few.

In 1948, for instance, the Delta harvested 1,463,750 bushels of soybeans from 79,000 acres, despite limited local markets. But interest in the bean has increased with epidemic like speed and 1949 may witness the heaviest acreage yet in this easy-to-raise, economical crop.

Optimism for the soybean's future has been most strongly manifested, however, by a group of citizens in Humphreys county, where an estimated 25,000 acres will be planted with the legume in 1950. The Humphreys group backed up their belief in the future of the soybean by putting up hard cash for construction of the state's first soybean solvent extraction plant.

Located at Belzoni, the $225,000 Belzoni Oil Works, Inc., which only recently went into operation, is capable of processing about 80 tons of soybeans per day. Twenty 10,000 bushel capacity elevators will provide storage space for about 200,000 bushels of beans. The mill expects to process around 600,000 bushels annually.

Today the producer is paid on the average of $1.90 per bushel, right at the mill, for his crop, depending on current prices.

In the first stage of processing the bean is cracked and reduced to flakes, which then pass through a hexane solvent, very similar to cleaning fluid, which extracts all but about one per cent of their oil. Each bushel of soybeans passing through the process will produce about 10 pounds of oil, which averages around 9 1/2 cents a pound. The Belzoni mill furnishes the oil to refining plants in Chattanooga, Atlanta, Memphis and at other points in the South.

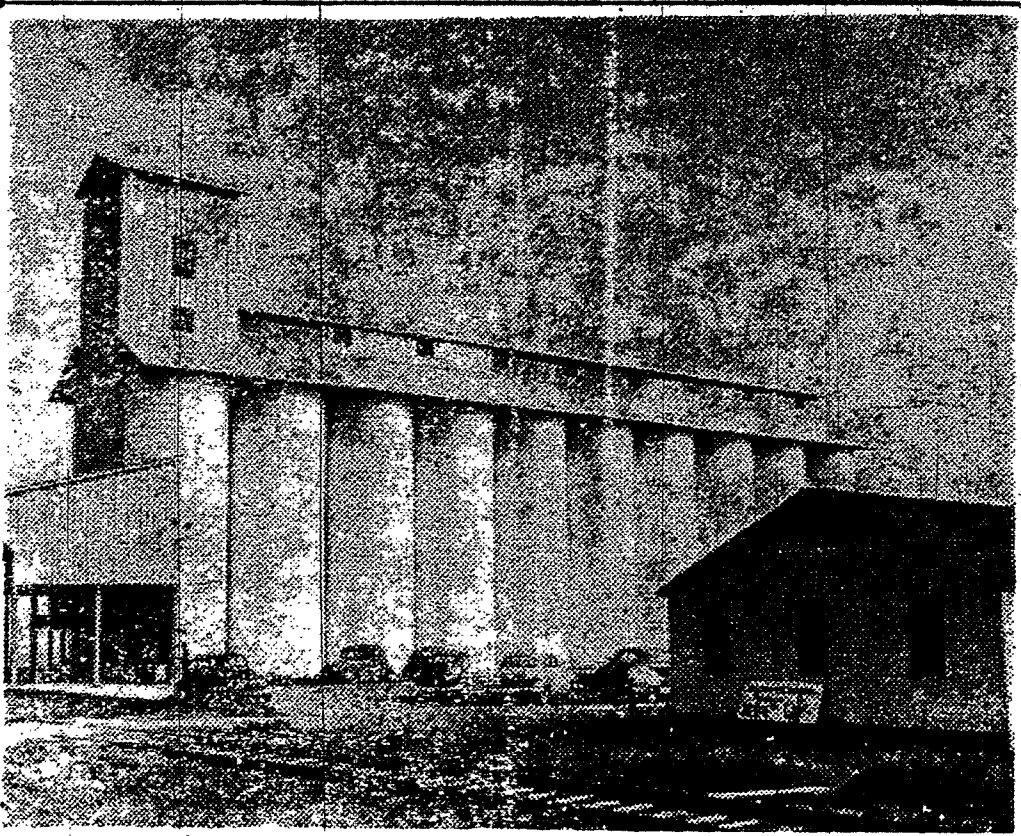

Considered one of the best edible oils, it is used in the manufacture of soaps and paints and varnishes, the latter because of its quick drying qualities.

Agricultural authorities also consider the residue after processing to be one of the best livestock feeds available, being 96 per cent digestible, compared with 81 per cent for cottonseed. Soybean meal also has a 44 per cent protein content, compared with 41 per cent for cottonseed.

H. H. Gantz, a former Iowan who is general manager of the Belzoni mill, says that already they are shipping such feed to Texas A. & M. where it is used for feeding livestock.

One of the biggest soybean producers in Humphreys county today is L. S. Stoner of Holly Bluff, vice-president of the corporation, who has been making a study of the bean for the past 10 years and who is considered an authority.

Stoner, a veteran cotton planter, expects to devote 2500 acres of his plantation to soybeans again this year, preferring it to cotton as a crop.

Mississippi's first soybean oil mill, the Belzoni Oil Works, Incorporated, at Belzoni, is capable of processing 80 tons of beans per day. Elevators shown above are capable of storing approximately 200,000 bushels. The corporation was formed and financed by Humphreys County citizens.

A Humphreys county soybean producer arrives at the Belzoni Oil Works, Inc., with a load of beans for which he'll be paid on the spot. They will next be hoisted into the elevators, passed to a cracking plant and then subjected to a solvent bath which will extract the oil.

County Agent M. E. Hill says the average yield in Humphreys now will run around 20 bushels per acre, but that a 60-acre yield is possible. "The beans will grow on any soil that cotton will grow on," Hill says. "They like moisture and will thrive in buckshot soil" which when wet is not good for cotton.

Hill says soybeans do not respond to ammonia fertilizer, but are soil builders themselves, and may be turned under after harvesting. Usual harvesting time is in October, with plantings in the Spring and early summer.

Irby Turner of Belzoni, a well-known planter and secretary-treasurer of the new corporation, says that outside interest in the new oil mill has been unusually keen. "Hardly a day passes," Turner says, "that some delegation doesn't come by to inspect the mill and inquire about processing of the bean."

Biggest drawback to increased production right at this time is the government's crop allotment measures. However, Agent Hill says his county expects to have at least 25,000 acres planted in soybeans in 1950.

Belzoni's newest industry is typical of the type of processors needed throughout the state to provide ready markets for agricultural products and natural resources, according to W. B. Barksdale, director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board.

"We are also particularly pleased to see establishment of such plants through private local financing," Mr. Barksdale said.

Organizers and officers of the Belzoni Oil Works, Inc., are J. A. Mortimer, president; Mr. Stoner, vice-president; Mr. Turner, secretary-treasurer; John Halbrook, director, and Mark Simmons, director.

H. H. Gantz, general manager of the Belzoni Oil Works, Inc., left; J. A. Mortimer, president, and Irby Turner, secretary-treasurer, inspect soybean flakes before they enter the solvent extraction plant.

Forestry Meeting Held In Biloxi

Henry Clepper, Executive Secretary of the Society of American Foresters, Washington, D. C., was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Longleaf Society of American Foresters, in Biloxi, Mississippi.

ONLY 7 FORESTERS IN 1900

The speaker told the group that there were only seven foresters in the United States when the S. A. F. was formed in 1900. Three of this original number are still alive.

There are from 12 to 13,000 foresters employed in forestry work in the United States today, the executive secretary continued, and nearly 8,000 forestry students in the various forestry schools throughout the country. Today foresters are being sought by twenty-six federal agencies as well as myriads of private and industrial types of work. There is a demand of 1500 to 2000 forestry graduates annually, Mr. Clepper stated.

Other prominent visitors at the meeting, conducted by R. J. Dedaux, Consulting Forester from Rockton, Miss., were J. Herbert Stone, U. S. F. S. Atlanta; C. E. Clapp, U. S. F. S. Atlanta; E. T. Ziegler, P. W. Frazer of Florida Forestry School Gainesville, Fla.; D. J. Wedell, University of Georgia, Athens; George Stankley, Monticello, Arkansas; R. K. Spears, Centenary College of Shreveport, La.; R. H. Gruenhausen, Dow Chemical Co., Midland, Michigan; Hoyt Nation, Dow Chemical Co., Auburn, Ala.; A. K. Dexter, president; Frank B. Pittman, executive secretary of Mississippi Forestry and the Chemurgic Association; Dawson Jennings, Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, Birmingham, Ala.; J. S. Therrell, Extension Forester, Starkville, Mississippi; A. S. McKean, Extension Forester, Baton Rouge; Monty Payne, head of the Forestry Department, State College, Mississippi; John W. Squires, Director Mississippi National Forests, Jackson, and R. M. Lindgren, P. D. Wheeler, L. R. Groenbaugh, all of Southern Forest Experiment Station, New Orleans.

BAY ST. LOUIS MEMBERS

Of the nearly 75 foresters in attendance at the meeting, J. Roland Weston, James I. Ansley, Weston Lumber Co., and Coney Weston, Wood dealer, Bay St. Louis, members of the group were present.

The next meeting of the group will be held on the University of Mississippi Forest Lands, Friday, March 31, with J. B. Brown, Vaden Lovelless and Maudlin in charge of the meeting.

A Tree Did This . . .

Irma Bordage and Bertha Mae Ladner, pupils of the Gulfview school, were hospitalized here Monday afternoon as a result of a tree falling on a school bus which was bringing them home from a ball game at Sellers vocational school in the northeastern part of the county.

The accident occurred on the Kiln-Poplarville highway just South of Bayou Bacon Creek when the tree fell across the rear of the bus just over the third seat; the top of the vehicle was torn off and folded over the rear chassis. It was level with the backs of the seats.

Irma Bordage suffered a deep gash in the scalp and Bertha Mae Ladner suffered bruises of the shoulders and neck.

Clarence Moran the bus driver had taken thirty of the students to the game and was returning when the accident happened at 2:30. The wind was strong at the time.

Benefit Minstrel Set For March 24

A "Pickaninny-Back Yard Minstrel" for the benefit of the American Red Cross will be held Friday, March 24 at 8:15 p. m. in the St. Joseph Academy gym. Mrs. Nelius Rhodes, author of the script, is directing the cast composed of high school students from S. J. A. St. Stanislaus and Bay High.

Rehearsals for the comedy minstrel, which is a preview of New York life and of Hollywood celebrities, began Tuesday night. The plot centers around a Negro whose wife left him with fourteen little pickaninnies; they are visited by their city cousin who depicts the bright life of New York and Hollywood.

There will be several comedy dance routines. The St. Stanislaus orchestra will accompany the group.
